Special Issue on Matthew Taylor’s Report on Modern Working Practices

Introduction
Peter Nolan

Special Issues
‘Fits and fancies’: the Taylor Review, the construction of preference and labour market segmentation
Sian Moore, Stephanie Tailby, Bethania Antunes and Kirsty Newsome
Living with uncertain work
Jason Heyes, Sian Moore, Kirsty Newsome and Mark Tomlinson
Fulfilling the ‘British way’: beyond constrained choice—Amazon workers’ lived experiences of workfare
Kendra Briken and Phil Taylor
Taylorooism: when network technology meets corporate power
Ewan McGaughey

Original Articles
Speaking up or staying silent in bullying situations: the significance of management control
Juliet MacMahon, Michelle O'Sullivan, Caroline Murphy, Lorraine Ryan and Sarah MacCurtain
Do unions protect older employees’ pay?
Michael White
Brexit: EU social policy and the UK employment model
Paul Teague and Jimmy Donaghey
Working more in order to preserve jobs? Works councils in the Swiss mechanical and electrical engineering industry and the ‘Swiss franc shock’ in 2015
Patrick Ziltener and Heinz Gabathuler